WEDDING BELLS

DOUBLET-TABOR

She was beautifully gowned in a model of white crepe-back satin, and her embroidered net veil arranged in eure fashion was held in place by a circle of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Lathraea, roses, lily of the valley, and fern.

Rink, and Miss Ethel Cobb, were dressed in white, and rose georgette

That the interest aroused in the New Chevrolet has been well merited is indicated by these first photographs of this latest addition to the light car field. The smart sport cabriolet, with its folding seat and disc wheels, is shown in the upper right-hand photograph. In the centre is the sturdy Chevrolet sedan, with its four doors and its own motor, the body of which is five inches lower than formerly. Inset are: upper left, the massive new radiator and heavy full crown fenders; right, the powerful and classical motor of the new line, with two-port exhaust and complete enclosure lower left, a view of one of the four-wheel brakes. The New Chevrolet, which are to be leased in prices, are to be available at once. They are longer and roomier than previous models.

Four lads about fourteen years of age decided to go on a destructive expedition on Friday last. After playing "hookey" from school, they proceeded over to the Barn's slaughter house where they did considerable damage breaking windows, tables and tearing up some hides. Two of the boys returned home, but the others feeling the spirit of adventure strong upon them, beat it to Pincher Creek by train. Fortunately for them their career of banditry was cut short by the Chief of Police of Macleod, and the four of them are all safely reported home awaiting the deserved punishment that all boys should remember in coming to those who step out with the "tough" idea, and start damaging and breaking up other people's property.

Rev. J. Dalgleish, of Chesham, spoke to the Men's Brotherhood Tuesday night at "Earthquake and Volcanoes and their cause." The beauty of a stone, and its worth to the world, as we pass over so many of the everyday things, we forget what they are, even the common stones, sand and dust. The rivers as they pass down their way to the sea, carrying their load of earth, and depositing it in a new place, thus one part has less and another more. In this way all things are working, and the balance of the earth is moving; one part of the crust thins, while another is thicker, so with the heat of the centre, the weak spots are found. It must escape somewhere, and a volcano is the result. The great bodies carried by the sea from one point to another, results in the same way, but often in the water, or near some city, when large numbers of men and women are awalled up. Or, the bottom of the sea or lake drops down, or if near a mountain, one goes up while another part drops down, thus making the great and quick changes. Vesuvius, one of the most ferocious craters, which covered Pompeii, was covered as a city with lava, and so remains. In the common things of everyday life let us find good and so remain, and so we pass along brighter the lives of those around us, by knowing them. All these mean great power, this power comes from, and belongs to God, and it is ours to use for the good of others.

MACLEOD HEARS MISADVENTURE ON CHINESE TANGLE-REV. S. E. ANNIS OF CALISTON IS SPEAKER - OTHER CHURCH NEWS

The outstanding event of the week was the visit of Jan. 10 of the Rev. S. E. Annis of Calistonia, who has spent ten years as a missionary in West China. Mr. Annis gave three addresses during the day in all of which he presented valuable information regarding the land across the sea.

His first address was to the Women's Missionary Society, when he spoke on the place women are taking in the world, and the better thinking classes of that land. Numerous teaching illustrations were used to describe a work of love in which the women of the home church might be proud to have a part.

"Political conditions in China from my viewpoint," was the title used by Mr. Annis to describe his address to the Men's Brotherhood. He said that it was impossible to secure any harmony of view even among foreigners in China and one could not speak with any dogmatism on any phase of the situation there. He described from his own experience the temper of the people and the causes leading up to evacuation.

In his absence the missionary has so grown in the appreciation of the people that they are urging his speedy return. In his absence the native church has rallied as it could to conserve the results of past expenditures and training that they still need the leadership and that only Western men can give them. Mr. Annis spoke in glowing terms of the attitude taken by Britain in the present crisis. He holds liberally ready to negotiate with Britain with government that can speak for China and that can govern the people, and that can govern the people, and that can govern the people.

Next Officers The Women's Missionary Society met last night and elected officers for the new year and in both cases practically the whole slate of retiring officers were re-elected. Mrs. T. S. McLean will again have the forenoon organization, and Mrs. W. G. Andrews the latter. Two representatives will go from the local W. M. S. to the Provincial meeting to be held in Lethbridge shortly.

Miss Daisy Jackson, who is the winner of the Cowley Women's Institute Cup for election at the Blairmore Macleod Festival last year, will make her debut as a public entertainer by giving a humorous and dramatic recital at the home of Friday evening. It is expected that she will shortly appear in the home of church in a similar role. Daisy is only fourteen years of age and was born and received her education in Macleod. She has been a distinguished pupil in the education classes conducted by the Rev. Mr. Irwin during the last two years and she promises to bring great credit to her native town.
